The Seven Veils and The Supper Club

The world is getting smaller, and now, thanks to Michel Bittan — owner of 201 Supper Club in Englewood, N.J. — lucky patrons can lose themselves for one evening a month in the sights, sounds, smells and tastes of the Middle East.

The club's Arabian Nights are hosted by Oman, and they showcase belly dancers, singers and the music from authentic cultural instruments for two shows each evening. 201 Supper Club's already Moroccan-esque décor is a perfect blend to set the mood.

"He contacted us," Bittan says of Oman. "He wanted to do a bigger show, and we can accommodate 300 people."

The door charge of $20 is very reasonable for an evening of entertainment that most never have witnessed before. The first night the promotion ran, the club served exotic cocktails and lamb delicacies to more than 250 people. It was such a success, the promotion naturally earned a full-time space on the venue's event calendar.
