

Tuesday 27th

THE
NEW YORK OBSERVER

The
Eight-Day Week

Bravo running nothing but *Celebrity Poker Showdown? We get it! Celebrities like to play cards and drink! We saw the movie Rounders! O.K., that said, tonight there's a No-Limit Texas Hold 'Em poker tournament and buffet dinner on the Upper East Side, which will help you feel better about your compulsive gambling since it's a benefit for Citta, a charity that helps indigenous or marginalized communities (like interns!). The event is brought to the table by iHomeGame.com, which markets itself as—get this—a “non-gambling, completely legal, onshore poker experience,” which makes us wonder how it's actually any fun. And there's a dress code! Fellas, you must tuck in your shirt, as cocktail or business attire is requested (translation: If you're going to lose your shirt, it better say “Paul Smith” on it).

[No-Limit Texas Hold 'Em poker tournament and buffet dinner, Bruno Jamais Restaurant Club, 24 East 81st Street between Madison and Fifth, 7 to 11 p.m., 212-213-6444.]